I will never forget my first glimpse of Hogwarts: the soaring spires, the winged pig statues, the snowy roofs of the surrounding Hogwarts village. As a devout fan of the source material, those magical images will forever be etched into my memory. Of course, I'll also never forget the sheer amount of wall-toting, spell-casting, butter-beer-guzzling people around me, either. Elbow to elbow, we jostled for position under the hot Orlando sun as the crowds at the Zwerkbal World Cup. Harry Potter Theme Park Tips The mass of people didn't diminish the experience for me, but it made me think about the Harry Potter theme park tips I wish I had known for my first visit. I made a few rookie mistakes my first time, but maybe you don't have to. Here are my top tips for visiting the Wizarding World of Harry Potter theme park in Orlando. 1. Buy the Universal Express Pass Check out this post on Instagram A post shared by Josh Roberts (@joshwhowrites) Seriously, do it. Remortgage the house if you must. It's worth it. With Universal Express, you can zip through the lines at almost all the attractions in Universal Studios and Islands of Adventure, including all Harry Potter theme park attractions. Express Passes are pricey, but they're undoubtedly worth every penny - especially if this is your first visit to The Wizarding World of Harry Potter. Express Passes comes in two variants: Universal Express (which allows you to make one express entrance per theme park ride) and Universal Express Unlimited (which, as the name suggests, allows unlimited express items for all rides that accept passes). For me, with a family of four including two children under 11, the Universal Express Passes did more to improve the quality of our trip than anything combined. Most rides at Universal have two separate lines: the standard line and the Express line. Express lines are more direct than the standard lines. This means you'll have to wait about 15 minutes on the Universal Express Pass line to board Harry Potter themarits. In the standard line, waiting times routinely reach 90 minutes to two hours. For many, a visit to the Wizarding World of Harry Potter theme park is a once-in-a-lifetime experience. There are places where it might make sense to cut corners to save money, but this is not one of them. Pay the extra price and zip through the lines instead of spending most of your day waiting in them. Universal Express passes are available for purchase before your trip or at several well-marked locations in the parks. Special lanyards for displaying Express Passes are available for sale in the parks and many stores as well. 2. You must visit both parks Check out this post on A post shared by Josh Roberts (@joshwhowrites) You must visit both Universal Studios Florida and the adjacent Islands of Adventure parks to get the full Wizarding World of Harry Potter park experience. And you need at least two days to see everything. Hogwarts Castle and the surrounding Hogsmeade area are located in Universal Studios Florida; Diagon Alley and its shops and attractions are located on adventure islands. They are connected via the Hogwarts Express, a short train ride that is only accessible when you purchase multipark passes that allow you to travel between the two parks at any time. To sweeten the deal, Universal has turned the Hogwarts Express into a short but entertaining experience, like a mini-ride in itself. I won't spoil the surprise, but suffice it to say that it travels a different experience from Diagon Alley to Hogsmeade than it travels in the other direction. True Harry Potter lovers will want to experience the ride both ways. The other way to travel between the two parks is through an area called Universal City Walk, which is usually shops, restaurants and entertainment venues covering the two parks. You don't need tickets to explore Universal City Walk, but you'll need tickets to access the City Walk to both parks. 3. Come to the Park Early View this post on Instagram A post shared by Josh Roberts (@joshwhowrites) Get there early. Before it opens early. Go away now if you. As soon as the park opens, walk straight to the Harry Potter area without stopping for anything. I can't emphasize this Harry Potter theme park tip enough: If you want to experience the Wizarding World of Harry Potter without shoulder-to-shoulder crowds, you should arrive before everyone else does. There's no other way. With the Universal Express Pass, you can take virtually any ride in both parks in a fairly short order. But Hogsmeade and Diagon Alley aren't attractions - they're open areas with shops, restaurants, vendors and all the design details you dream of when you propose your visit. So naturally they are quickly overwhelmed by the crowds. By arriving first in the Harry Potter theme park area, you get about 30 to 60 minutes of relative freedom to explore these magical spaces without the crowds. This is especially important if you or your kids want to try your hand at spellcasting. Universal sells replica wands that allow you to cast spells at dozens of locations in the Hogsmeade and Diagon Alley areas. (I'll talk more about the wands later.) But unless you find yourself or your kids in line with scores of other people waiting for your turn, you need to get there before everyone else. Casting a successful spell in a virtually empty Diagon Alley is magical; Being 10th in line to perform the same trick is frustrating and a bit ridiculous. When you arrive at the parks, head straight to Hogsmeade or Diagon Alley, wander around, take it all in, maybe see the scenery and atmosphere of the wizarding world of Harry Potter before everyone else is there. As soon as the rest of the there, use your Express Pass to quickly click the Harry Potter-themed rides. 4. Stay at a Universal Studios Hotel View this post on Instagram A post shared by Josh Roberts (@joshwhowrites) Speaking about going to the park early, staying at a Universal Studios hotel is one of the easiest Harry Potter theme park tips to take advantage of. My family stayed at the retro-chic Cabana Bay Beach Resort, which offers a free shuttle to the parks and is within walking distance of Universal Studios Florida, Islands of Adventure, Universal City Walk and the Volcano Bay Water Park. The great advantage of staying in the Cabana Bay or any other Universal Studios resort, unlike other hotels in the area, is early access to the Wizarding World of Harry Potter. When you book, check which park provides early access during your scheduled dates, and plan your visit accordingly. Some Universal Resort packages also include Universal Express and Universal Express Unlimited passes. A small advantage of staying in a Universal Studios resort: access to the gift shop merchandise in your hotel. Sure, it's crass commercialism, but let's face it- you're probably going to buy that Gryffindor T-shirt team captain's shirt anyway, so why not buy it during your down time at the hotel instead of wasting time shopping in the parks? 5. You Don't Have to Buy Your Interactive Wand at the Park View this post on Instagram A post shared by Josh Roberts (@joshwhowrites) If you've always dreamed of wandering in and letting your wand choose - buy the wand at Universal Studios by all means. You will not be disappointed with the attention to detail in the wall shop. But if you're going this route, arrive early, head straight to Ollivanders Wand Shop (in Diagon Alley) or Dervish and Banges (in Hogsmeade) and make your purchase before the line starts to stretch outside the store. If you are more interested in casting spells with your wand than the experience of purchasing them, do yourself a favor and buy the wand literally somewhere else. There is a Universal Studios gift shop at Orlando Airport and in all Universal hotels. You even buy it online before you arrive. You're going to spend over $50 per wand, wherever you get it from. Don't stand in line if you don't have to. This applies to almost all the merchandise you find in the park. ... Or Buy ahead! Harry Potter Costume set via Amazon For all you Harry Potter fanatics out there, what better way to stay in the moment than to emulate Harry or any of your other favorite characters from the series with a catchy, light costume from Amazon? 6. Try the Butterbeer Check out this post on Instagram A post shared by Josh Roberts (@joshwhowrites) This non-alcoholic drink, which comes in both cold and frozen varieties, is everywhere in the Harry Potter areas of the parks. Depending on where you buy your drinks, you also get away with a replica cup or beer stein souvenir. The sweet and frothy concoction tastes like a combination of roomsoda roomsoda butterscotch, but pinning down the exact taste is hard to do-other than to say it's pretty much perfection. I'm not exaggerating when I say that drinking the butter beer is reason enough to visit the Harry Potter theme park. That's how good it is. Often imitated, never emitted, the secret recipe for butter beer is a well-guarded culinary secret- and it really hits the place when the Orlando temperatures start to rise. 7. Check Altitude requirements in advance There are only a handful of actual Harry Potter theme park rides, but they are all pretty amazing. Make sure you check the height requirements before you queue (or get your child excited for a ride he or she won't be allowed on). Harry Potter and the Forbidden Journey's height requirement is 48 inches; Flight of the Hippogriff is 36 inches; Harry Potter and the Escape from Gringotts is 42 inches. There is no minimum height requirement for the Hogwarts Express. 8. You Might Want to Repeat the Rides Watch this post on Instagram A post shared by Josh Roberts (@joshwhowrites) Opinions vary on what the best ride is in the wizarding world of Harry Potter theme park, but my kids loved Harry Potter and the escape of Gringotts best. My personal favorite was Harry Potter and the Forbidden Tour, which you take inside Hogwarts. Even queuing for the Harry Potter attractions is a fun experience for Potter fans, as the walls in the castle live with moving portraits and other interesting set pieces. It is worth noting that the Universal Express line and the standard access line within Hogwarts take different routes to the starting point of the ride. If you're a big fan, you might want to wait in the standard line at some point just for the experience. Get there early for the standard line access and then go again with your Express Pass. 9. Take a small backpack (or no backpack at all) You backpacks and snacks in the Wizarding World of Harry Potter theme park areas of Universal Studios and Islands of Adventure, but you don't bag with you on most of the rides. The park offers free lockers for use during the ride, but there are a few things you need to know. First, the lockers are quite small- so only bring a small backpack or bag to the park. Secondly, the lines to use the lockers can be long and the area around them is crowded. If you avoid bringing a backpack to the park, you will save yourself some time and hassle.
